ORIENT

We, the Class of 1940, do present for your censure or approval (as Allah wills it) our edition of the East High Orient. It is our hope that the course of time will diffuse our deficiencies in the aureole of fond memories of ye olde Alma Mater. A touch of this and a touch of that and an unholy conglomeration of everything—the 1940 Orient.

1940
To our East High Pal
Pat Gorman

IN RECOGNITION . . .

We, the Class of 1940, dedicate our Orient to our class advisers, Miss Elsie Neun and Mr. George Moyer. Their cooperation and boundless enthusiasm have spurred us on through the final lap of the East High School relay. Their calm control has smoothed our rough path. Miss Neun, displaying a personal interest in all of us, has harmonized the various discords that have made their appearances during the year. Mr. Moyer's practical experience contributed to a successful fiscal policy. His rough, good humor was never lacking, and at times he certainly needed it. Their labors have not been in vain, for another three hundred lads and lassies are trotting out into this dismal universe. We cannot adequately express our appreciation of their labors in our behalf, but "Merci mille fois, Miss Neun," and "May good luck pursue you, Joe."

George Moyer

PARODY ON THE FUTURE

Old "Jolly Joe" Moyer, bespectacled and bewhiskered, laid aside his study hall register, glanced depreciatingly at the slumbering intelligentsia, and wheezed, "—you, Alex Costa, Jr., wake up!" Then our erudite pedagogue commenced the perusal of "Who's Who—and Who Cares Anyhow." Beneath the lens of his high powered magnifying glass, he found therein this information concerning certain erstwhile members of the Class of 1940:

A. Dix Brown—teaching a course at Harvard on "Diesel Engines and their Relation to Archery."

Ted Carpenter—relegating antiquated cadavers of the "Vanishing American" from Kaministiquia.

Bob Bauman—has finally come to the conclusion that the automobile is here to stay.

Faye Fuller—has finally succeeded in collecting the last of the class dues.

Kearney Jones—third junior assistant to the second vice-president in charge of lexicography for "Webster and Co."

Collins Carpenter—recent winner of the Third International Open Tiddley-Wink Tournament.

Janet Wilson—still tooting a mean flute.

Bob Brown—literary critic of the "Daily Worker."

Betty Kimpal—co-author of "How to Dance in Twenty Not-So-Easy Lessons."

Irving Siller—yodeler and hog-caller on the National Farm and Home Hour.

Charles Barlow—finally apprehended.

Jean Bruce—prominent in the Little Theatre Movement.

Davis Bohacket—political boss of Hicksville, Tenn.

Doreen Mosier—vocalist with Elaine Morrison and her Happy Hep-cats.

Joe Taddeo—Mr. D. Bohacket's constabulary in Hicksville.

Jimmie Collins—official Keeper of the Tom-Tom for the Ubangis.

Betty Ross—President Emeritus of the International Society of International Relations Clubs.

June Marlowe—author of "Manners for the Mob."

Dan Hudson—President of the Soda Jerkers Local 762.

Bud Histed—still an eligible bachelor.

John Wells—manager of a flea circus.

Bob Infarinato—junior partner in the law firm of Flywheel, Shyster, Flywheel, and Infarinato.

Doris Lichtwart—running for president in place of Gracie Allen.

Rhea Gysel—poet laureate of East High School.

Kenneth Neill—just completed a thesis, "The Fifth Siege of Nizhni Novgorod."

Reata Dolph—fashion editor for "Reader's Digest."

Ralph Ameele—in Tahiti recuperating from editing an Orient.

Hildagarde Murrer—author of "A Child's Garden of Einstein's Theories."

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

To the Second Congress and the President Edmund Carpenter fell the task of synchronizing the newly-formed S. G. A. They organized the Court and the Cabinet, provided for a different fiscal program, and arranged the Clubs' calendar. Though their road was fraught with hardships and oftentimes the debates waxed hot, they found their stride.

The first meeting of the Third Congress was called to order by the Vice-President, Peter Drago. With one-half year of successful operation to its credit, the S. G. A. met its second challenge optimistically. As the months rolled through to June, additional technical difficulties were overcome under the expert advice of Mr. Harold Fagan. They untied the various knots that made their appearances in the coil of East High finance. Certain new ordinances, vital to order and discipline, were passed. The Third Congress has contributed its bit to the East High Diary. We thank them.

ADMINISTRATION

W C Wolgast
P R I N C I P A L

When the present Senior Class trickled into school two years ago, they were greeted at the doors by a new head-master, Mr. William C. Wolgast. It was he who was to have the job of carrying on from where Mr. Wilcox left off. Mr. Wolgast has not only carried onward but also upward. No stranger to East High, he was quickly at his ease in his new position. His important task of directing an institution of over fifteen hundred students has been done with distinct finesse and unusual ability. May he have many more graduation classes.

Eyesight is a Priceless Possession

Tired eyes mean headache, eyestrain and possible nervous disorders. If your eyes bother you—have them examined. If it is a question of inadequate or improper light—try an I. E. S. Lamp.

I. E. S. Lamps provide scientifically correct light and safeguard your sight and health. See that your children have an I. E. S. Lamp for homework and other reading tasks.
